

How to Present a Tutorial Question

1. Write the problem neatly on the whiteboard.
2. Face the group members.
3. Read the question out loud to the group.
4. Explain any prior knowledge and what you already understand about the question.
5. Explain what strategies you used in attempting to answer the question.
6. Indicate to your group exactly where you became confused as you worked to answer this question.

How to Present a Tutorial Question

1. Write the problem neatly on the whiteboard.
2. Face the group members.
3. Read the question out loud to the group.
4. Explain any prior knowledge and what you already understand about the question.
5. Explain what strategies you used in attempting to answer the question.
6. Indicate to your group exactly where you became confused as you worked to answer this question.

How to Present a Tutorial Question

1. Write the problem neatly on the whiteboard.
2. Face the group members.
3. Read the question out loud to the group.
4. Explain any prior knowledge and what you already understand about the question.
5. Explain what strategies you used in attempting to answer the question.
6. Indicate to your group exactly where you became confused as you worked to answer this question.

How to Present a Tutorial Question

1. Write the problem neatly on the whiteboard.
2. Face the group members.
3. Read the question out loud to the group.
4. Explain any prior knowledge and what you already understand about the question.
5. Explain what strategies you used in attempting to answer the question.
6. Indicate to your group exactly where you became confused as you worked to answer this question.

Questions to Ask During Tutorials

1. Can you explain your question in another way?
2. What do you already know about the question?
3. What have you already tried?
4. Where could you find a similar problem in the book?
5. Do you have Cornell notes that may help?
6. Where could you go for more information?
7. What website might help you with your question?
8. What does _____ mean?
9. How would you graphically illustrate your process?
10. What would happen if you changed _____?
11. What if you tried _____?
12. How would you teach this to a friend?

Questions to Ask During Tutorials

1. Can you explain your question in another way?
2. What do you already know about the question?
3. What have you already tried?
4. Where could you find a similar problem in the book?
5. Do you have Cornell notes that may help?
6. Where could you go for more information?
7. What website might help you with your question?
8. What does _____ mean?
9. How would you graphically illustrate your process?
10. What would happen if you changed _____?
11. What if you tried _____?
12. How would you teach this to a friend?

Questions to Ask During Tutorials

1. Can you explain your question in another way?
2. What do you already know about the question?
3. What have you already tried?
4. Where could you find a similar problem in the book?
5. Do you have Cornell notes that may help?
6. Where could you go for more information?
7. What website might help you with your question?
8. What does _____ mean?
9. How would you graphically illustrate your process?
10. What would happen if you changed _____?
11. What if you tried _____?
12. How would you teach this to a friend?

Questions to Ask During Tutorials

1. Can you explain your question in another way?
2. What do you already know about the question?
3. What have you already tried?
4. Where could you find a similar problem in the book?
5. Do you have Cornell notes that may help?
6. Where could you go for more information?
7. What website might help you with your question?
8. What does _____ mean?
9. How would you graphically illustrate your process?
10. What would happen if you changed _____?
11. What if you tried _____?
12. How would you teach this to a friend?